I have a box in my closet of objects I've collected over the years. Each one represents something or someone special to me. Do you have a place where you like to keep special things? If so, what do you keep there? Share with your group a story about one thing in your box (maybe even bring it to your group).

If your heart is a box where the things you value are kept, what would be in there?

How does what you value impact where you invest?

Is there anything in your box needing to be removed?

The trick to removing something from your box is to replace it with something better. What can you put in your box?
